

QUARTO - Quick Rules

Objective

Be the first player to create a row, column or diagonal of four pieces that all share at least one common attribute.

The 16 Pieces

Every piece is unique. Each one is:

- Tall or Short
- Round or Square
- Light or Dark
- Solid or Hole

Who Starts?

Choose at random, or agree who starts. The starting player first chooses a piece for the other player; they do not place a piece themselves.

How to Play

1. The starting player chooses any piece for their opponent.
2. The opponent places it on any empty square.
3. That player then chooses any remaining piece for the other player.
4. Continue placing the piece you are given, then choosing the next piece for your opponent.

Winning

Immediately after placing a piece, you win if a completed row, column or diagonal has four pieces sharing at least one attribute. The four may differ in every other way. A line can share more than one attribute.

Examples: 4 Tall pieces, 4 Hole pieces, or 4 Square and 4 Dark pieces.

Draw

If all 16 squares are filled and nobody has made a winning line, the game is a draw.

Remember: you never choose the piece that you place. You choose the next piece for your opponent.
